Buddy’s First Aid App — Quick Start

Prepare voice assistance and local-vet access before an emergency.

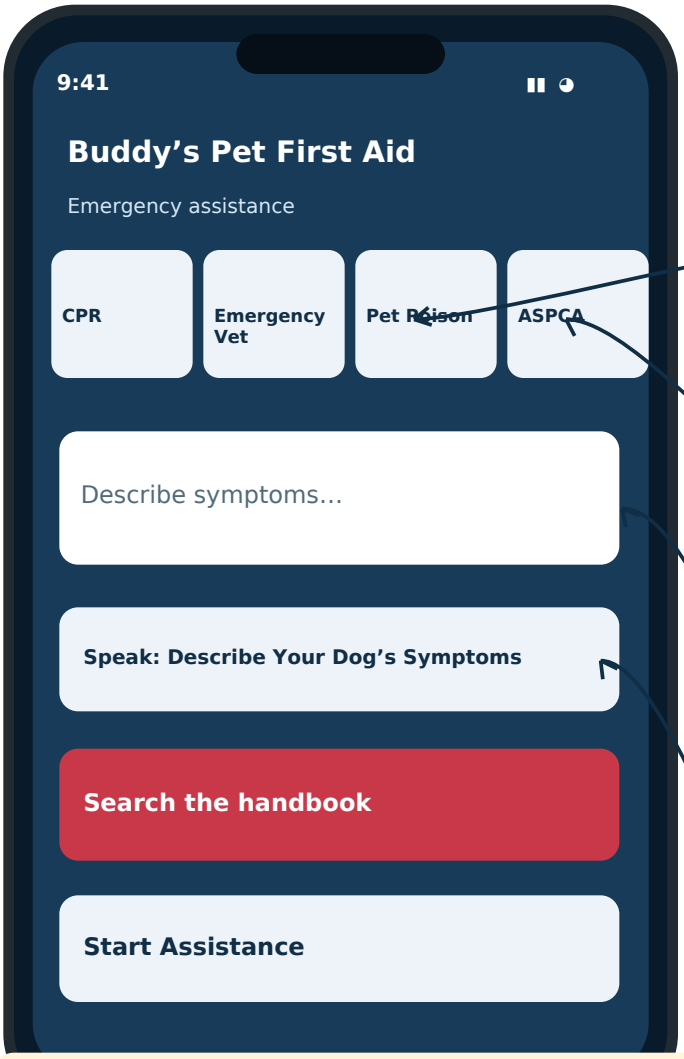

Audio playback is tested with “Test Audio”; a separate speaker permission may not appear.

Prepare before an emergency

Open the app once, enable microphone and location if desired, test the speaker at a usable volume, then continue. Browser permissions can be changed in device settings.

Start Assistance and Symptom Input

Describe what you observe by typing or speaking; use shortcuts for urgent help.

Pet Poison (third)

Open the poison-reference and help resources.

ASPCA (far right)

Use the ASPCA resource shortcut shown in your app.

Type symptoms

Enter visible signs, such as limping or breathing changes.

Speak aloud

Use the microphone control to describe symptoms.

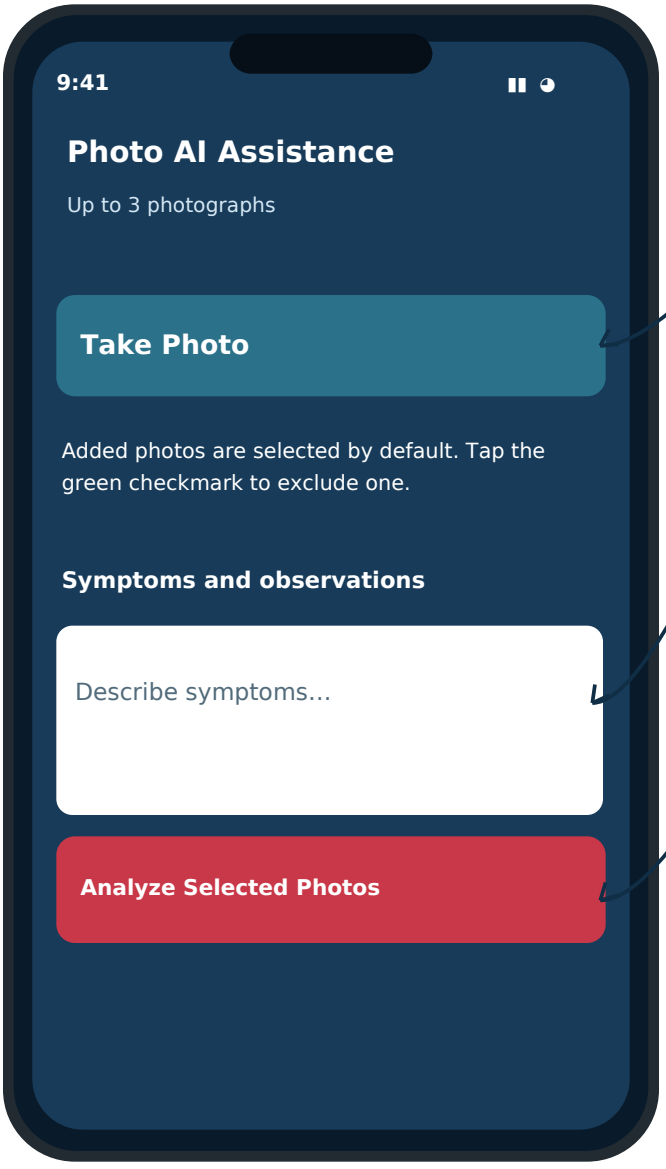

For emergencies, call the veterinarian now. Do not wait for a handbook or AI response.

Choose your entry method

Type in the symptom field or press the Speak control. Search the matching handbook chapter and use CPR, Emergency Vet, Pet Poison, or ASPCA resources as appropriate.

Photo Assistance and Injury Marking

Document symptoms and identify affected areas without delaying urgent treatment.

Take Photo

Capture one to three clear photographs.

Describe symptoms

Record the observed condition and when it began.

Analyze selected photos

Only the selected photos and observations are sent when submitted.

Identify Photo Location

○ Circle × Mark

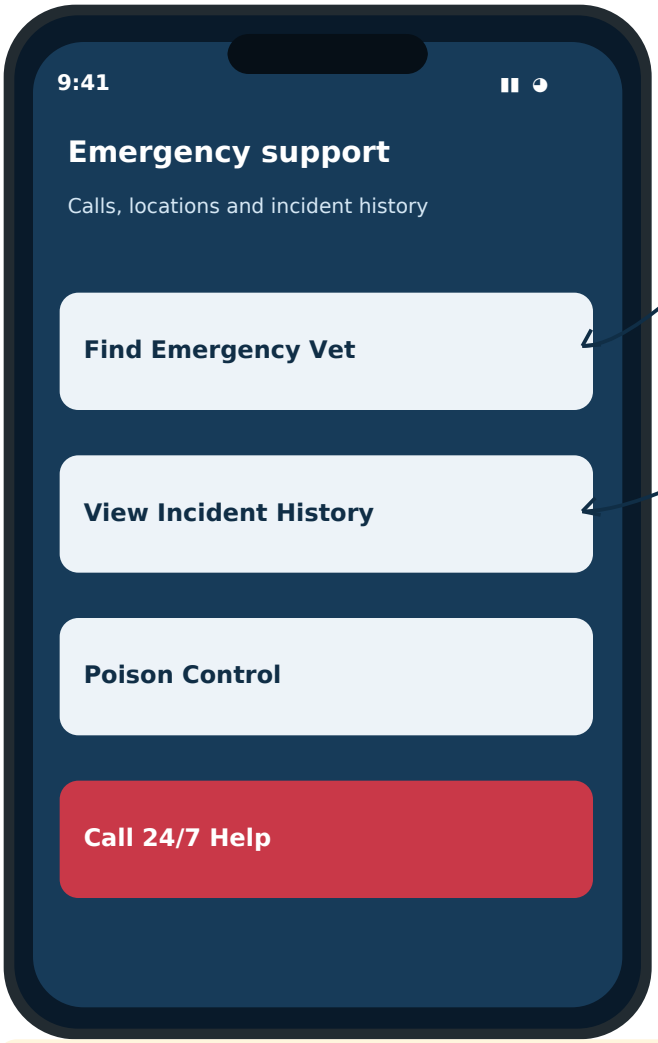

Circle = broader observed area; X Mark = precise location. These are observations, not diagnoses.

Review and submit

Select a photo, use Circle/Mark on the anatomical views if helpful, then choose Submit for AI Assistance or Skip Location Identification. AI results are educational only.

Emergency Help and Your Records

Reach veterinary resources promptly and retain useful incident details.

Emergency Vet

Use location-aware maps, then telephone to confirm intake.

Incident History

Saved locally in the browser; clearing data can erase records.

POISON-RELATED HELP

ASPCA Animal Poison Control
1-888-426-4435

Pet Poison Helpline
1-855-764-7661

Fees may apply. Call for exposure-specific advice.

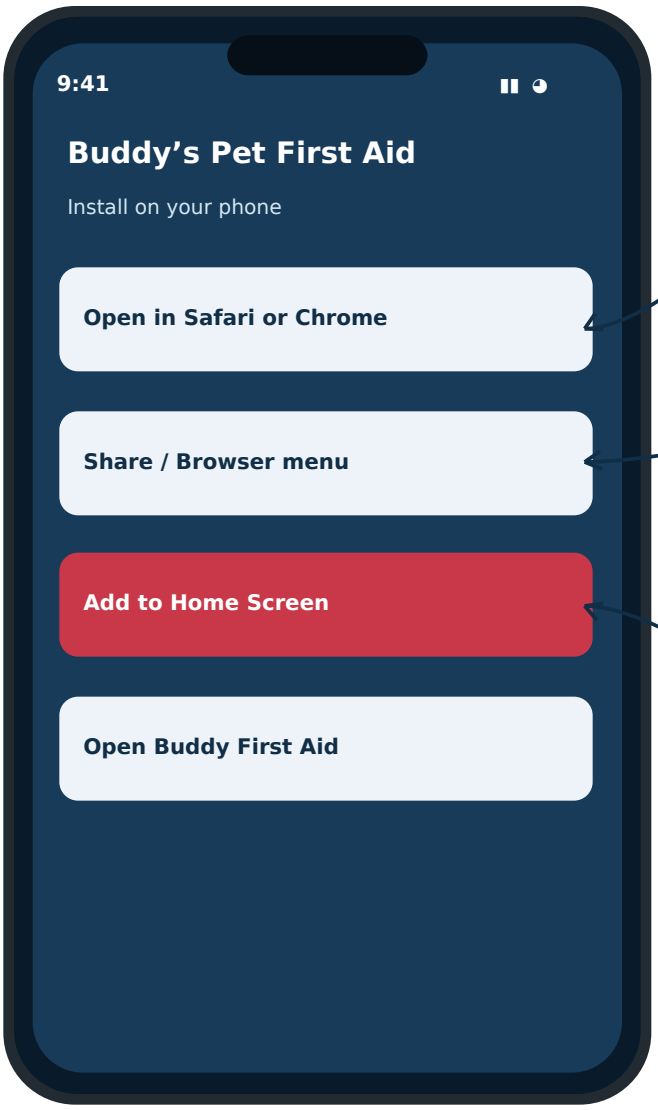

Suspected poisoning: keep the product label and call promptly; do not give home treatments.

Keep emergency records accessible

Use View Incident History to review saved symptoms, images and AI findings. Browser storage is not a reliable medical backup. Keep written contacts and medication information available.

Install, Revisit and Protect Your Records

Keep Buddy’s Pet First Aid available from your phone’s Home Screen.

1. Open

Use the access information supplied after purchase.

2. Find the browser menu

iPhone: Share in Safari. Android: Chrome menu.

3. Add to Home Screen

Confirm the shortcut when your device offers it.

No App Store purchase needed. Internet access may be required for AI and maps.

Privacy and fallback

Photo selections and symptoms are sent only when you submit AI analysis. Incident history may be lost if site data are cleared. Keep emergency numbers on paper and call a veterinarian without waiting for the app.